Denise White Estate Agents Comments

A traditional end terraced home occupying a convenient and highly regarded position close to the centre of the market town of Leek, with an excellent range of amenities available right on the doorstep including a convenience shop, gym, eateries and the post office, whilst the town centre itself, with its array of independent shops, pubs and restaurants, is just a short walk away.

The property is in need of cosmetic improvement throughout and therefore presents an exciting opportunity for purchasers to modernise and personalise the accommodation to suit their own tastes and requirements, creating an ideal first home or investment property.

To the ground floor, a good-sized lounge sits to the front aspect, creating a welcoming reception space which leads through to the breakfast kitchen. The kitchen provides space for dining and also gives access to the staircase rising to the first floor. Positioned off the kitchen is a small rear hall which in turn leads to the rear garden and the ground floor bathroom.

To the first floor, a generous double bedroom is located to the front aspect, whilst a good-sized second bedroom overlooks the rear.

Externally, the property benefits from a private and enclosed rear garden area incorporating a useful brick-built store, together with gated access leading to the rear alleyway.

Offering excellent potential in a highly convenient location, the property would be ideally suited to first-time buyers, investors or those seeking a project with scope to add value.

Location

Known as the 'Queen of the Staffordshire Moorlands', Leek is a former textile town with a long and fascinating history.

The unspoilt town centre offers a refreshing alternative to from modern shopping malls and has a wealth of independent shops, including former silk mills housing antique and reproduction pine centres, as well as traditional and contemporary furnishings.

Delicious local produce can be found in abundance at traditional butchers, bakers, greengrocers, delicatessens and cafes. Leek is also home to speciality producers of condiments, confectionery, preserves, wine, whisky, craft beers and the traditional Staffordshire oatcake.

Traditional markets abound, both indoors in the beautifully restored Victorian Butter Market and outdoors in the Market Place, offering everything from general goods, antiques and collectables to fine foods and special 'Totally Locally' Sunday markets. And when it comes to wining and dining, you can choose from a tempting selection of cafés, real ale pubs and restaurants.

Further afield, you'll find the unique, tooth-like rock formations of The Roaches, Rudyard Lake with its picturesque setting and narrow gauge railway and Tittesworth Water, a popular and accessible attraction for visitors of all ages.
