Denise White Agent Comments

Situated in a popular residential location, this attractive three-bedroom terraced townhouse offers spacious accommodation arranged over three floors and retains a wealth of original character features throughout. The property presents an excellent opportunity for a range of buyers seeking a well-proportioned home with versatile living space.

Upon entering the property, you are welcomed into a spacious entrance hallway featuring beautiful Minton tiled flooring and original decorative details including picture rails and coving, setting the tone for the character found throughout the home. From the hallway there is access to both the lounge and the dining room.

The front-facing lounge is a bright and inviting reception room, benefiting from a box bay window that allows for plenty of natural light. The room retains charming period features including coving and picture rails.

To the rear of the property is the dining room, which features traditional quarry tiled flooring and offers a generous space for dining and entertaining. The dining room leads through to the well-presented kitchen, which is fitted to a good standard with a range of units and work surfaces.

Beyond the kitchen is a practical utility area with cupboard housing and plumbing for an automatic washing machine and dryer. Completing the ground floor accommodation is a convenient downstairs WC.

To the first floor, the property offers a family bathroom fitted with a freestanding bath and part-tiled walls. There are also two bedrooms on this level. Bedroom One is a spacious double room overlooking the front aspect, featuring exposed wooden flooring and a characterful cast iron fireplace. Bedroom Two overlooks the rear of the property and would make an ideal single bedroom, nursery, or home office.

A staircase leads to the second floor where the attic room currently divided into two sectioned rooms but could provide a spacious and highly versatile space. This room offers excellent potential and could be utilised as a substantial master bedroom, games room, study, or hobby space, with scope for further adaptation subject to requirements.

Overall, this charming townhouse combines period character with flexible living accommodation, making it an ideal home for buyers seeking space, character, and potential.

Location

Known as the 'Queen of the Staffordshire Moorlands', Leek is a former textile town with a long and fascinating history.

The unspoilt town centre offers a refreshing alternative from modern shopping malls and has a wealth of independent shops, including former silk mills housing antique and reproduction pine centres, as well as traditional and contemporary furnishings.

Delicious local produce can be found in abundance at traditional butchers, bakers, greengrocers, delicatessens and cafes. Leek is also home to speciality producers of condiments, confectionery, preserves, wine, whisky, craft beers and the traditional Staffordshire oatcake.

Traditional markets abound, both indoors in the beautifully restored Victorian Butter Market and outdoors in the Market Place, offering everything from general goods, antiques and collectables to fine foods and special 'Totally Locally' Sunday markets. And when it comes to wining and dining, you can choose from a tempting selection of cafés, real ale pubs and restaurants.
