

Nelson Drive, Manchester, M43 6ND

Offers over £60,000

Located in the heart of Droylsden, Manchester, this plot of land on Nelson Drive presents a remarkable opportunity for a property developer. The plot of land is situated in a central location, providing easy access to local amenities and excellent transport links, including nearby tram services that connect you to the wider Manchester area.

What makes this plot of land particularly enticing is it comes with full planning permission for the construction of a three-bedroom detached property. This presents a unique chance to capitalise on the growing demand for housing in the region, making it an ideal investment for those looking to expand their portfolio or create a new family home.

Whether you are looking to settle in a vibrant community or seeking a strategic investment, this plot of land on Nelson Drive is a rare find that combines convenience, potential, and a prime location. Don't miss the chance to explore the possibilities that await you here.

