Building house where people truly feel at home.

When we design our homes and select a location, we're always focused on the finer details. From how a property feels when you walk through the door for the first time, to how it adapts and evolves to suit your lifestyle, every choice we make is designed to enhance our purchasers' quality of living.

By bringing together clean lines, contemporary designs, high-end specifications and only the best materials, we build properties where people truly feel at home. Baxter Green is no different - a secluded Nottinghamshire development where aspiration marries opulence.

A peaceful community of contemporary homes and apartments

Baxter Green is nestled between the suburban village of Bramcote and the bustling, vibrant town of Beeston. The development comprises a range of modern apartments as well as a number of luxurious, secluded homes.

Each property has been considered with a number of purchasers in mind - making Baxter Green perfect for upwardly mobile professionals looking for their dream first home, as well as downsizers searching for their perfect forever home.

Our apartments epitomise the needs of the modern day home owner, with clean lines and high-end specifications making them unique when compared to similar properties in the local area. Fully integrated Steven Christopher Kitchens come as standard, alongside underfloor heating, flooring, blinds and contemporary sanitary ware.

Each property's name is inspired by an historic local land owner - including the Hanley and the Longden. The Hanley family were once proud owners of Bramcote Manor House, while the Longdens once lived in the Manor and owned Bramcote Hills House - with John Longden famously the squire of Bramcote for a time.

This nod to the history of the local area keeps our modern properties relevant to their setting - one which is becoming increasingly popular for people moving within Nottinghamshire, as well as those relocating from further afield.

Baxter Green is only a short drive from many major transport links including the A52 and M1, as well as major tram and train routes - making Nottingham, Derby and the wider East Midlands easily accessible.

The town centre is home to all of the amenities you would expect from a small town and is situated just over three miles from Nottingham city centre. From popular high street retailers, banks and supermarkets, to quaint cafes, fine dining and leisure facilities, Beeston has the perfect blend.

For those who enjoy scenic walks in the great outdoors, Highfields Park at the University of Nottingham campus is only a short drive away with its own boating lake, wildlife and green spaces. Attenborough Nature Reserve is also in close proximity, with its flora and fauna, idyllic walking routes and on-site cafe.

Beeston Marina is another popular outdoor destination situated nearby, with its glistening rivers and waterways making it a hive of activity during the summer months. From Wollaton Hall, home of the Dark Knight, to Nottingham Castle and the delights of a city famed for its nightlife, dining and historic connections to Robin Hood and lace making, families will never struggle to find ways to occupy their downtime.

For young professionals, Bramcote's location makes it well connected to a number of major cities, South Yorkshire and destinations across the UK.
