Inside The Home

Entering through a wooden front door into the porch with its glass panel above the door, you're welcomed into a light hallway that immediately hints at the home's charm. Classic original period features, including the traditional archway in the hallway, adds character and a sense of history from the moment you step inside. The lounge is a wonderfully inviting space, centred around an impressive marble fireplace and framed by a generous bay window that floods the room with natural light. The high ceilings and detailed coving enhance the sense of space. Stepping into the dining room, you'll find exposed brickwork in the alcove and a chimney breast offering scope to reinstate a fireplace or install a log burner, adding even more charm. The spacious room also features an old farmhouse-style hanging rail, a double panel radiator, along with fitted shelving. Windows throughout the property were replaced approximately 20 years ago, the internal wooden doors were replaced approximately 7 years ago. The kitchen flows from the dining room through a wooden door, a practical and well-laid-out space with plentiful storage, work surfaces, and a sink positioned beneath a window overlooking the paved rear garden. There is space for an electric oven, washing machine, and fridge-freezer, plus useful understairs storage and a door that provides access outside.

On the first floor you'll find a bathroom fitted with a double shower that offers excellent accessibility, as well as a toilet, sink, and large window with views over the garden. A double panel radiator and the water boiler (installed in 2016 and serviced annually) sit within the airing cupboard, which provides additional storage. The first double bedroom features an original fireplace, generous windows with pleasant views. The second spacious double bedroom offers impressive scale and versatility, enhanced by dual double windows allowing the light to filter into the room. The room presents a fantastic blank canvas for the buyer to put their stamp on it. On the landing, a built-in storage cupboard offers everyday practicality. A further door leads to steps rising into the loft room, formerly used as a workstation. The loft has been insulated, plastered, decorated and it benefits from a velux window, making it an excellent storage area or potential third bedroom or study space.
