Location

Compound 1 sits on a site with several commercial units on the outskirts of Stathern village.

Stathern is a small rural village about 9 miles northeast of Melton Mowbray. It's historically agricultural, with strong ties to nearby Harby and Redmile, and today acts as a quiet commuter and farming community with Melton providing the main services, market links, and identity for the area.

The A607, A46, and A52 are the major trunk roads linking Harby and Stathern to the regional and national road network. Locally, Stathern Lane/Harby Lane ties the two villages together, but the trunk connectivity comes from those three main routes. Stathern Station yard lies on the outskirts of the village, accessed via a wide access road, capable of serving artic/ haulage traffic.

The 7 Acre Stathern site houses numerous businesses which include Commercial Units and Hardstanding in gated compounds.
