The property

A beautifully appointed home, elevated above the picturesque High Street of Chalford and enjoying delightful views across the village rooftops. Tankard House is a detached Grade II listed home, with detached garage, occupying a desirable south-facing position in the heart of this Cotswold community. Beautifully presented throughout, the property has been sympathetically enhanced, combining period charm with tasteful contemporary finishes. Approached through the pretty front garden, the main entrance is sheltered beneath an elegant canopy. The front door opens into a hall, from which stairs rise to the first floor and doors lead into the principal reception rooms. The impressive sitting room is light and spacious, benefiting from two windows overlooking the front garden. A substantial fireplace with a striking stone surround and wood-burning stove creates a focal point, while parquet flooring adds further character. The formal dining room is equally attractive, enjoying views and featuring a fireplace with wood-burning stove and bespoke fitted storage and shelving. Beyond, the traditional kitchen is fitted with shaker-style cabinetry and oak worktops, with appliances including a range cooker, dishwasher and two drawer fridge. A door provides access to the garden, while an internal door leads to a substantial utility and storage area housing the boiler. The first floor is particularly appealing. A landing, arranged as a snug, provides a versatile additional living space with exposed beams and attractive views towards the valley. Doors lead to bedrooms one and two, together with the family shower room, while a staircase rises to the second floor. The principal bedroom enjoys a lovely south-facing outlook and benefits from a stylish en-suite bathroom featuring a freestanding stone composite bath and bespoke vanity unit. Bedroom two is another beautiful room, and this combined with two pretty second floor bedrooms is served by the stylish modern shower room.

Outside

Elevated above the lane and enjoying an open outlook across Chalford High Street to the wooded valley beyond, Tankard House benefits from a detached garage with an electric roller door — a rare feature in the immediate area. The gardens extend around three sides of the property. The front garden is raised above the High Street, allowing it to make the most of its sunny southerly aspect. Stone steps lead through a pedestrian gate and along a flagstone path to the cottage. A level lawn lies to the front, while a variety of flower borders showcase traditional cottage garden planting, including roses, peonies, and box hedging. A lean-to wood store and adjoining potting shed will appeal to keen gardeners. Stone steps between the front door and kitchen door lead down to a well and cellar (which is also accessible internally from the rear store). The current owners use water from the well to irrigate the garden. At the front of the property, a further door opens into an extensive storage area that wraps around the side and rear of the house. This space is also accessible internally from the kitchen. Steps rise along the side of the cottage to a paved rear terrace lined by Lavender, which provides an excellent vantage point from which to enjoy the views. Beyond the garage, a further section of garden is arranged over a series of terraces and is currently used for growing fruit and vegetables. It also includes an area sown with wildflower meadow seeds.
