Situation

Stonehouse is a thriving and well-connected market town, offering an excellent balance of community life, amenities and surrounding countryside. The area is particularly well regarded for its schooling, with a selection of primary and secondary schools nearby. Stonehouse railway station provides regular mainline services to Gloucester, Cheltenham and Bristol and London Paddington, making the town a practical choice for those commuting to the capital. Road communications are equally convenient, with easy access to the M5 motorway, providing direct routes to Bristol, Bath, Gloucester and Cheltenham, as well as connections to the wider national motorway network. Stonehouse High Street offers a good range of everyday amenities, including independent shops, cafés, public houses, supermarkets and essential services. The surrounding countryside is a particular highlight, with open fields, rolling Cotswold landscapes and a network of footpaths, including along the canal, ideal for walking, cycling and outdoor pursuits. Nearby centres such as Stroud offer further educational and recreational facilities.
