Williams Harlow Cheam - A charming house offering exceptional convenience and effortless vivere. Young families and downsizers will stroll to the high street for everyday needs, catching some scenic respite at the local ponds feeding the ducks. The commuters of the family enjoy an excellent choice of two mainline train stations serving different central London terminals (albeit why not WFH, the current sellers do from the brick built garden room). Offered in a stylish mode the interior has been crafted to reflect modern tastes. Parking to the front and a private and sunny rear garden ensure the outside is as good as the interior. Ready to view immediately.

The Property - Space To WFH

A double fronted house with overtures of a cottage vibe. Having been historically extended to both floors, the current layout takes full advantage of the addition to maximise a modern layout which flows. You enter through the storm porch and into the entrance hall/study, the ground floor then flows in a circular motion between the lounge, the cloakroom, the family room and the fitted kitchen with breakfast bar. The flow of the layout is accentuated by the engineered wooden floor which runs between the reception spaces and breaks only in the kitchen. The bi-folds act as a visual gateway to the patio and garden. Upon the first floor you will find three bedrooms and bathroom. The interior has a sense of luxury albeit innate character runs through the very ousia. The current owners have created a home salon in the brick built garden room. Working as a hairdresser the room has water, electric and drainage and with only a small change could just as easily be studio or office.

Outside Space - Sunny Patio and Garden

An ultra sunny rear garden measuring circa 75ft. With patio off the house and raised rear currently used as a play area. The garden feels private and enjoyable. The side passage connects the front to the back and the frontage has parking for least two cars.

Local Area - Ample Choice on Hand

Ewell Village is one of those areas which successfully marries the old with the new. A historic back drop adds to the rich amenity value. It would be easily to imagine mum and child jumping puddles whilst strolling into the high street for a walk through the park and a treat for dinner from one of the shops. Having both Ewell East and West train services on hand are not only ideal but a life saver when wanting options to get around central London. Bud rides in either direction journey in Kingston or Epsom.

Why You Should Buy

An easy move for both families or down sizers, this house has a feeling of being just rightly sized and the attraction of the ultra convenient location would be hard to over look.
