Description

An inviting and substantial family home set within a quiet residential pocket of Cirencester, offering an excellent balance of space, comfort and modern living.

The property sits back from the road, overlooking a small green which creates an immediate sense of openness and calm. Inside, the accommodation extends to approximately 1,583 sq ft, arranged over three floors with generously proportioned rooms and a versatile layout that works particularly well for modern family life.

On the ground floor, the open-plan kitchen/family/dining room forms the sociable heart of the home. The kitchen is thoughtfully arranged with ample storage and preparation space, flowing naturally into the family and dining areas to create a relaxed setting for everyday living, entertaining and spending time together. Doors open directly onto the rear garden, providing an easy connection between inside and out during the warmer months.

The first floor introduces a different dimension to the accommodation, with a generous separate sitting room providing a bright and welcoming space in which to relax away from the main family area downstairs. Its elevated position and proportions make this a particularly comfortable room and underline the flexibility offered by the three-storey layout.

Across the upper floors, four well-proportioned bedrooms provide plenty of flexibility for family, guests or home working. The principal bedroom offers particularly generous proportions, while the family bathroom is finished in a clean, neutral style.

Outside, the rear garden provides a private and manageable space in which to relax, with established flower beds and a patio area for seating and entertaining. Gated access at the rear leads conveniently to the property's single garage and allocated parking.

With its generous accommodation, attractive outlook and convenient position for Cirencester's schools, green spaces and amenities, 36 Moss Way is a wonderfully practical family home with considerably more space than you might initially expect.

Location

Situated within an established and popular residential area of Cirencester, enjoying an attractive position overlooking a small green. The setting provides a pleasant outlook and a sense of openness, while remaining conveniently placed for the town's wide range of amenities and facilities. The property also enjoys easy access to a popular walking route into the town centre, providing a pleasant alternative to taking the car.

Cirencester is a thriving historic market town at the heart of the Cotswolds, renowned for its rich Roman heritage, attractive architecture and vibrant community. The town centre offers an excellent selection of independent shops, cafés, restaurants, pubs and everyday services, together with regular markets and a variety of leisure and cultural facilities. There is also a good choice of highly regarded primary and secondary schools in and around the town, making the area particularly appealing to families.

The surrounding Cotswold countryside provides numerous opportunities for walking, cycling and outdoor recreation, with a network of footpaths and attractive villages nearby. Cirencester is also well placed for access to the wider region, with convenient road connections to Cheltenham, Swindon, Gloucester and the M4 and M5 motorway networks. Nearby Kemble Station offers direct rail services to London Paddington, providing a practical option for commuters travelling into the capital.

Sellers Comments

"We moved to Cirencester from out of the area and couldn't have picked a better spot. We love the position of the house, we think the outlook onto the green makes it one of the best spots on the whole development".
