From the quiet cul-de-sac, there is a driveway to the garage and steps to the front door. Upon entering, the bungalow is thoughtfully designed with the bedrooms to the right and living accommodation to the left. An entrance hallway gives access to the partially open living area with a lounge to the front of the bungalow, a large opening with glass doors through to the dining room which is then open to the kitchen overlooking the rear garden. From the dining room you can also gain access to the rear conservatory, utility room, separate WC and another side entrance which leads to the front of the bungalow and the garage.

To the front, the property has a driveway and lawn with access to the left hand side of the bungalow. To the right the original detached garage has been linked with a lean to which gives access to the utility and further through to the rear garden. The rear garden is generous but manageable with the majority laid to lawn with a greenhouse and shed to the side. Although East facing, it enjoys the majority of the days sun thanks to its slightly raised nature and no obstructions from neighbouring properties.
