This well presented four bedroom detached cottage is located in the picturesque village of Tillingham, which is located within the Dengie Peninsula with the closest town being Burnham-On-Crouch which is approximately 8 miles. The village is clustered around the historic centre which has been designated as a conservation area. There are two public houses which date back to the 15th century and two chapels. The village also benefits from a primary school, doctors, bowls club and a variety of shops. Being part of the Dengie Hundred which is bounded by the River Blackwater and the River Crouch, the village also has footpaths throughout providing pleasant walks.

The accommodation comprises a lounge, dining room, fitted kitchen, utility room/hallway leading to bedroom four/reception room and a shower room. To the first floor there is a landing providing access to bedroom one and two further double bedrooms as well as a stunning re-fitted four piece bathroom suite.

To the rear, there is a large garden which is mainly laid to lawn with a variety of trees and shrubs, and benefits from a decked seating area to the front with various outbuildings, one which was previously a garage so has the potential to be converted back or made into a potential annex. Viewing comes highly recommended to fully appreciate the size and standard of the accommodation on offer.
